Forest Bathing for Stress Management

Wellness Wednesdays: Forest Bathing for Stress Management

Wellness Wednesdays is a series of Forest Bathing Walks Held on the 3rd Wednesday of every month. Each walk is a different experience and all are designed to reset and regulate your nervous system for mental, emotional and physical health. Immerse yourself in the glorious nature of this ancient woodland and leave refreshed, rejuvenated, focused and calm.

What is Forest Bathing?

Forest Bathing, also known as shinrin-yoku, is a wellbeing practice that emerged from Japan. These gentle sensory-immersive walks guided by a Certified Forest Bathing Guide invite participants to move gently and consciously through a series of nature-immersive moments. These moments support a deep connection to nature and enhance physical, emotional and mental wellbeing, including:

Lowers heart rate, blood pressure and cortisol levels.

Reduces stress, anxiety and rumination (repetitive negative thoughts)

Reduces inflammation and physical pain

Restores attention, focus and concentration

Elevates mood

Strengthens immunity
